TO-NIGHT'S BATTLE

Between Goulette and Eddie Gardner Promises the Real Article of the Boxing Game-A Large Crowd Will Witness It.

A corking good fistic battle is promised this evening at the Metropolitan club, between Eddie Gardner, of this city, brother of Oscar Gardner, and Kid Goulette, of Rochester, N. Y., the here of many a tough argument in the roped arena, and it deserves the big house that will likely witness it. lads will meet at catchweights, which will probably find Goulette a few pounds heavier than the local boxer. The contest will be under straight Marquis of Queensbury rules, hence knockout is quite probable. As the preliminary will be put on at 8 o'clock, the main event will begin at its conclusion. The early hours rule has been adopted by the club to accommodate patrens who live out the Grafton division of the Baltimore & Ohio road.

All followers of the ring are familiar with the performances of the principals to-night's engagement. stands high in the featherweight register, and aside from his defeats by Jack McClelland, Eddle Gardner has beaten all comers. His improveed form of late leads many to think that he will some day step into Oscar's shoes. In Goulette he will find the toughest proposition he was ever stacked up against. But which ever way it goes it will doubtless be fast and full of fire, and it is a safe bet that all who saw the Gardner-Green encounter a few weeks will be on hand to-night.

Owing to Carl's declination to meet Belivue, the preliminary ten-round bout will be between Belivue and Walter Burgo, although a Wellsburg aspirant for fistic honors may be pitted against the Buifalo man, as he has asked the club to give him a chance against a man of his weight.

AMUSEMENTS.

The widespread popularity of "Phro so" as a book is well known, and it has, according to its author. Anthony Hope, brought him more congratulations for artistic finish than any of his other works. In the dramatization of "Phroso" the stage adapters have clung very losely to the book narrative. As is the case in many dramatizations, none of interest has been lost in fitting Hope's story for the stage. On the outrary, it is said, the thrilling situacontrary, it is said, the thrilling situations are intensified, and the subtle weirdness of the story is made to stand out with greater potency. The play enjoyed a long and highly successful run at the Empire Theatre, New York, last season, and Charles Frohman, in putting it out this year, has given it every advantage in cast, as well as stage environment. Odette Tyler plays the title role, and it is said that she finds it the most congenial she has ever undertaken, Mr. Frohman's company will appess' at the Opera House Saturday night, January 27. Reserved seat sale commences Friday morning, at the Opera House box office.

"Have You Seen Smith?"

Nothing appeals to the feminine eye any quicker than the warbrobe and milincry worn by the ladies engaged on the stage. Many a weak spot in a performance has been smoothed over by a handsome gown. It is announced by the manager of "Have You Seen Smith" that one of the inviting and attractive features in connection with this highly successful farce comedy is the contuming. Every gown was designed and the materials selected by a celebrated Parislan modiste, and sent to New York for construction. Some of the ladies make four and five complete changes of costume during the performance. In arranging the dresses for each act, care was taken to blend the colors, and present an even harmony of tone, which is in itself very commendable, as nothing jars a sensitive eye more than a clashing of colors. BENWOOD.

News Notes From the Busy Marshall County Town.

County Town.

It was reported in Benwood yesterday that Max Levi had died at his home in Allegheny, Pa., on Sunday, and the report is doubtless currect. Max Levi was known to every man, woman and child in Benwood, and he was well liked by all classes. He was a clothing peddier, and traveled through this section for twenty-five years, spending considerable time in Benwood, and he seemed to divide his leisure time between this town and his home in Allgheny. He was singularly honest and upright, and evinced great interest in Benwood affadrs. His life was insured for $11,000. He has a family in Allegheny.

He has a family in Allegheny.

Both cases against Joseph Lubic in the local courts were dismissed yesterday. On the Sunday liquor selling charge there was a lack of evidence, and Mayor Shepard dismissed it. Before Squire Lacey, Lubic appeared to answer the charge of using profane language to Officer Curran over the telephone, but this charge couldn't be substantiated, while Lubic made a piausible explanation of the language he used. He said he was bothered by a man in his saloon, while at the 'phone, and the remarks Curran complained of were addressed to the disturber.

The new electric light ordinance was adopted by council, and as previously stated in these columns, there will be an increase in the rates for additional lights over five, the price being twenty cents a month, instead of $1 a year as formerly. The new rates did not occasion the kicking that resulted some time ago, when the question was broached, for it seems to be generally recognized that the company has been losing money. Its books were submitted for inspection to the council committee, on rules and ordinances to demonstrate this fact. this fact.

of Belmont County.

There is a good deal of discussion just now as to candidates for mayor and other offices this spring. Much of it is in an effort to catch the drift of sentiment. The Democrats are framing up early and their committee will get together to-morrow evening and may call their primaries early, while the Republican committee is quietly watching the trend of affairs. Nobody wants early primaries except the candidates who desire to have their fate settled on the Democratic side. For mayor the names of J. A. Driggs. D. W. Cooper, H. W. Herman, Richard Crozler and Frank-Williams are mentloned, and for marshal, M. J. Lynskey seems to have "a cinch." There is considerable opposition to the re-nomination of Mayor Freeze, but so far he has all the best of it, as no pronounced candidate is out on that side and unless a formidable one is sprung, the Republicans will renominate.
